GRAPHIC DESIGN ► PRINTING ► COPYWRITING & EDITING

We know that printing and graphic design processes can be daunting. We're here to take you step by step through the process and help create the best design and print products for your needs at a reasonable price. Tell us what you need, and we will get back to you with ideas, options and guidelines.

PM Media Services also provides copywriting and technical editing. We have competency in a variety of technical and scientific fields. Our copywriters can develop a clear, concise message for use in all of your marketing and outreach efforts. We understand the differences between web, print and new media and know how to make them work together to give you a consistent message across all media.
